Step into the lobby of the Adelpia House and step back to a time when detail in architecture was everything. Designed by Horace Trumbauer this renovated hotel offers a grand, two-story lobby with detailed tile floors and beautiful plaster work. Located in the heart of Center City the Adelpia House is within walking distance of the Convention Center, City Hall, Avenue of the Arts, Reading Terminal Market and all major public transportation. The building offers a wide array of affordable studio, one and two bedroom apartment homes, many feature stunning views of the southern city skyline.

SOME OF THE MANY FEATURES AVAILABLE:
